

MUST PAY PRICE OF EXCELLENCE

Men of Brains and Power Not Held by Nominal Salaries

DETROIT, Nov. 22.—The school is suffering for lack of leadership; it is not attracting to the ranks of its ministry young men of outstanding genius and character, to insure the best; it must be willing to recruit the best and pay the piper. Justice H. R. Douglass of the Michigan legislature, chairman of the Michigan Education Association, said:

"It is greatly to the credit of Christian ministers as a class that they have given their unswerving support to the cause of their interests. Nevertheless, a minister cannot be the conscientious leader that ought to be unless he is fresh from the ministries and demands of temporary affairs. At present only about 12 per cent of the protestant clergymen of the country are college graduates. This is, however, still too small a percentage to account for the number of men now in the ministry needed to maintain a family. The great majority of them receive less than the wages paid in the great industries, of the 175,000 protestant clergymen, and 1 per cent come within the income tax allotment of $2,000. The church will fail to secure the best young men for our pulpits unless she rewards them adequately and assures them of a respectable support in old age."

Men of brains and power are not attracted by monotonous and colorless activities of the ordinary routine of church life. They want to see the church coming to grips with practical problems, actually applying the spirit and principles of Jesus in every phase of life. Must Not Be Handcuffed.

Young men most know that if they are entering into any form of Christian service, they will not be hampered and hindered by ecclesiastical restrictions just now. Men are impatient just now in denominational differences. There must be time to think, to pray and experiment for oneself that the Christian message may bear the stamp of that authority which comes from individual thinking and experience. We must stop handing down ready-made programs from church officials and encourage the individual leader to express his own initiative in his own particular field. In the large churches especially, there must be an adequate staff. A Christian leader must have time to think and grow or he cannot keep ahead of his congregation.

Individual and social salvation certainly go hand in hand, and one cannot be divorced from the other. But let the church remember that the task the church is engaged in is the saving of a few chosen souls from the wreck of things but the redemption of the world and the creation of a new order of society based upon the principles of Jesus."

ARMISTICE IN ROAD FIGHT

Question of Distributing Road Funds Settled by Compromise.

HENRYETTA, Nov. 22.—After a factional fight of more than two months among the county commissioners of the distribution of certain road funds, and the construction of the roads, resulting in injunction proceedings, the commissioners on one contract, the white who had done his best to hasten calmly over the proceeding, resulting in the burying of the hatchet with honors even and no blood spilled.

After a consultation in which the citizens of Okmulgee and Henryetta had a part both sides agreed to give up and the commissioners extended the olive branch to each other with a fraternal handshake that closed the ugly breach which portended a long drawn out sectional fight that had all the earmarks of an attempt to divide the county.

The contracts now to be let for hard surface roads in Okmulgee county will total near $1,000,000 and construction work will be immediately resumed.

A safety valve for automobile tires emits a hissing sound as a warning when a tire to which it is attached is overinflated.

Come On Boys

And get in on the smoke of your life in union made

CLOWN CIGARETTES 20 for 15+

ITCHING ECZEMA DRIED RIGHT UP WITH SULPHUR

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment and distress. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream—Advertisement.

Responsibility Rests With Parents If School Work Interfered With

Spectator's Word.

DETROIT, Nov. 22.—Local school authorities have watched their hand-pupils of schools and other parties given and attended by students, school nights. The authorities continue to suggest that none such as given on school nights and declare that if they are given, then the parents are responsible, as the schools are no provision after school hours.

No parties given under the auspices of the schools themselves are held other than on Friday and Saturday nights.

A night English two-passenger automobile has a body that floats on water and can be propelled with blades fitted to its rear wheels.

There's No Place Like Home

I'll Say There Isn't

Good home cooking and home entertainment have it all over the big restaurants and theaters.

We suggest that you come to the Edgar Shoppe, 518 South Main street, and select a few new Victor records for the Victrola. Everyone will enjoy the new music on Thanksgiving day. Just think, new music and Turkey—"Oh, Boy!"

If you do not own a Victrola you still have time to get one in time for Thanksgiving day. For either Victrolas or records, call Cedar 2697. "Our Service Is Next Door to You, No Matter Where You Live."

IT DOES MAKE A DIFFERENCE WHERE YOU BUY YOUR VICTROLA

The EDGAR SHOPPE VICTROLAS-VICTOR RECORDS "THE SHOPPE OF QUALITY"

518 SOUTH MAIN CEDAR 2697

"Our Service Is Next Door to You, No Matter Where You Live"

Style 90
VICTROLA $125
and one dozen 10-inch
Victor Records $10.20.
Total, $135.20

A LESSON IN PATRIOTISM MACHINE FACTORY LOCATED

Agent Visits Schools to See That Stars and Stripes Are Honored

Special to The World

CLAYTON, Mo., Nov. 22.—The American Legion has become much interested in seeing that the law relative to placing the national flag on every schoolhouse in Clayton county is observed. Every school in the county has now been visited for this purpose. Nelson Corwin, agent for the Legion, suggested that none such as given on school nights and declare that if they are given, then the parents are responsible, as the schools are no provision after school hours.

In addition to the repair shop and foundry, the company has a general one-arm site and track age, and will erect large shop buildings, office buildings, etc. H. C. Decker is president and manager.

In addition to the repair shop and foundry, the company will manufacture a special line of oil field and oil mining tools. The company holds the patents of a number of tools extensively used in these industries.

CRAP SHOOTERS TOURNAMENT

Comes to Close When Police Invade Supposed Sound Proof Room.

BOSTON, Nov. 22.—The Boston police, who have been investigating the Boston Police Invade Supposed Sound Proof Room.

At the time of the raid, the officers had heard a muffled noise coming from the room, from whence the police were able to take in the entire situation before the astonished players of the game could awaken to action.

The crevices in the door were filled with paper and large quilts covered the windows in an effort to make the room soundproof. The officers were taking the men to the station one of them blurted out, "I thought you fellows were all down hearin' Billy Sunday."

"You never can tell about a policeman," was the reply.

About 4 o'clock on said afternoon detectives Ed Rice, Ned Gritts and Bill Jackson heard a dice game in progress and turned the men in charge out. Just outside of a room in an office building on West Fourth street the officers stopped and listened. Inside a low murmur raised to a pitched voice at intervals, while the clatter of the "bones" could faintly be heard.

With a skeleton key the police opened a door leading into a room adjacent to the one where they had located the inner door leading into the room from whence the muffled sounds had been heard. Their entrance was a surprise to the occupants and the police were able to take in the entire situation before the astonished players of the game could awaken to action.

The crevices in the door were filled with paper and large quilts covered the windows in an effort to make the room sound-proof. The officers were taking the men to the station one of them blurted out, "I thought you fellows were all down hearin' Billy Sunday."

"You never can tell about a policeman," was the reply.

As the officers were taking the men to the station one of them blurted out, "I thought you fellows were all down hearin' Billy Sunday."

"You never can tell about a policeman," was the reply.

As the officers were taking the men to the station one of them blurted out, "I thought you fellows were all down hearin' Billy Sunday."

"You never can tell about a policeman," was the reply.

As the officers were taking the men to the station one of them blurted out, "I thought you fellows were all down hearin' Billy Sunday."

"You never can tell about a policeman," was the reply.

As the officers were taking the men to the station one of them blurted out, "I thought you fellows were all down hearin' Billy Sunday."

"You never can tell about a policeman," was the reply.

As the officers were taking the men to the station one of them blurted out, "I thought you fellows were all down hearin' Billy Sunday."

"You never can tell about a policeman," was the reply.

As the officers were taking the men to the station one of them blurted out, "I thought you fellows were all down hearin' Billy Sunday."

"You never can tell about a policeman," was the reply.

As the officers were taking the men to the station one of them blurted out, "I thought you fellows were all down hearin' Billy Sunday."

"You never can tell about a policeman," was the reply.

As the officers were taking the men to the station one of them blurted out, "I thought you fellows were all down hearin' Billy Sunday."

"You never can tell about a policeman," was the reply.

As the officers were taking the men to the station one of them blurted out, "I thought you fellows were all down hearin' Billy Sunday."

"You never can tell about a policeman," was the reply.

As the officers were taking the men to the station one of them blurted out, "I thought you fellows were all down hearin' Billy Sunday."

"You never can tell about a policeman," was the reply.

As the officers were taking the men to the station one of them blurted out, "I thought you fellows were all down hearin' Billy Sunday."

"You never can tell about a policeman," was the reply.

As the officers were taking the men to the station one of them blurted out, "I thought you fellows were all down hearin' Billy Sunday."

"You never can tell about a policeman," was the reply.

As the officers were taking the men to the station one of them blurted out, "I thought you fellows were all down hearin' Billy Sunday."

"You never can tell about a policeman," was the reply.

As the officers were taking the men to the station one of them blurted out, "I thought you fellows were all down hearin' Billy Sunday."

"You never can tell about a policeman," was the reply.

As the officers were taking the men to the station one of them blurted out, "I thought you fellows were all down hearin' Billy Sunday."

"You never can tell about a policeman," was the reply.

As the officers were taking the men to the station one of them blurted out, "I thought you fellows were all down hearin' Billy Sunday."

"You never can tell about a policeman," was the reply.

As the officers were taking the men to the station one of them blurted out, "I thought you fellows were all down hearin' Billy Sunday."

"You never can tell about a policeman," was the reply.

As the officers were taking the men to the station one of them blurted out, "I thought you fellows were all down hearin' Billy Sunday."

"You never can tell about a policeman," was the reply.

As the officers were taking the men to the station one of them blurted out, "I thought you fellows were all down hearin' Billy Sunday."

"You never can tell about a policeman," was the reply.

As the officers were taking the men to the station one of them blurted out, "I thought you fellows were all down hearin' Billy Sunday."

"You never can tell about a policeman," was the reply.

As the officers were taking the men to the station one of them blurted out, "I thought you fellows were all down hearin' Billy Sunday."

"You never can tell about a policeman," was the reply.

As the officers were taking the men to the station one of them blurted out, "I thought you fellows were all down hearin' Billy Sunday."

"You never can tell about a policeman," was the reply.

As the officers were taking the men to the station one of them blurted out, "I thought you fellows were all down hearin' Billy Sunday."

"You never can tell about a policeman," was the reply.

As the officers were taking the men to the station one of them blurted out, "I thought you fellows were all down hearin' Billy Sunday."

"You never can tell about a policeman," was the reply.

As the officers were taking the men to the station one of them blurted out, "I thought you fellows were all down hearin' Billy Sunday."

"You never can tell about a policeman," was the reply.

As the officers were taking the men to the station one of them blurted out, "I thought you fellows were all down hearin' Billy Sunday."

"You never can tell about a policeman," was the reply.

As the officers were taking the men to the station one of them blurted out, "I thought you fellows were all down hearin' Billy Sunday."

"You never can tell about a policeman," was the reply.

As the officers were taking the men to the station one of them blurted out, "I thought you fellows were all down hearin' Billy Sunday."

"You never can tell about a policeman," was the reply.

As the officers were taking the men to the station one of them blurted out, "I thought you fellows were all down hearin' Billy Sunday."

"You never can tell about a policeman," was the reply.

As the officers were taking the men to the station one of them blurted out, "I thought you fellows were all down hearin' Billy Sunday."

"You never can tell about a policeman," was the reply.

As the officers were taking the men to the station one of them blurted out, "I thought you fellows were all down hearin' Billy Sunday."

"You never can tell about a policeman," was the reply.

As the officers were taking the men to the station one of them blurted out, "I thought you fellows were all down hearin' Billy Sunday."

"You never can tell about a policeman," was the reply.

As the officers were taking the men to the station one of them blurted out, "I thought you fellows were all down hearin' Billy Sunday."

"You never can tell about a policeman," was the reply.

As the officers were taking the men to the station one of them blurted out, "I thought you fellows were all down hearin' Billy Sunday."

"You never can tell about a policeman," was the reply.

As the officers were taking the men to the station one of them blurted out, "I thought you fellows were all down hearin' Billy Sunday."

"You never can tell about a policeman," was the reply.

As the officers were taking the men to the station one of them blurted out, "I thought you fellows were all down hearin' Billy Sunday."

"You never can tell about a policeman," was the reply.

As the officers were taking the men to the station one of them blurted out, "I thought you fellows were all down hearin' Billy Sunday."

"You never can tell about a policeman," was the reply.